2. Understanding of Life Coaching: The undersigned participant understands that Life Coaching is not counseling or professional therapy. The focus of Life Coaching is determined by the participant and focuses on strategic planning, values clarification, building trust and motivational goal setting to achieve the participants identified desired goals. The Provider, Brian Fowler, is not certified as a Life Coach and does not hold a professional degree and offers his Life Coaching from life experiences and insight he has gained over many decades. The Provider is not acting as a mental health provider, psychologist or professional mental health counselor, licensed or otherwise, but rather is acting in the capacity of a non-professional mentor/life coach providing non-professional advice, general guidance and suggestions for the achievement of life goals. If professional therapy, medical or mental health services are needed, the participant assumes responsibility for finding those services elsewhere.
